Former Nu-Style Manufacturing Facilities

April 17, 2012

A millrace was found during spring of 2012. The stone structure originally ran from the “reservoir” near where Grove Street is today, under Nu-Style Building I (demolished in 2012), under Old Grove Street (gravel roadway shown above), and under Nu-Style Building II before emptying into Mine Brook.

The majority of the millrace was removed during demolition of Building I and soil remediation activities, but at least 15 linear feet remain under former Old Grove Street. The remaining millrace structure will be removed during the Building II Demolition Project.
