

Art Pharmacy

Art Pharmacy is a social prescribing company that connects people to arts and culture activities in their communities to support their health and well-being.

Art Pharmacy is looking to partner with arts organizations and referring partners to provide access to social prescribing for more individuals in recovery or as a tool for prevention in the Franklin community.

Are you interested in becoming....

an arts & culture partner?

Do you work in arts, culture or nature? Do you have creative or cultural programs that are open to members of the public? Consider joining the network of arts & culture partners. This is an opportunity for traditional and non-traditional arts & culture institutions and community-based organizations of all sizes.
