

How to Renew a U.S. Passport with DS-82 Form

(as of 2023, Jan.)

Note: This document does not cover all cases or scenarios (for which there are many). Consult the Department of State's travel website: I need a U.S. Passport or I have a U.S. Passport (visit: travel.state.gov) or call the National Passport Info Center: (M-F 8am – 10pm) 1-877-487-2778).

Applying for a passport renewal is quicker and easier than getting a new passport. The Department of State allows you to renew by mail (self-renew), therefore saving the $35 facility fee and the applicant is not required to appear in person. A few questions to determine if you can self-renew with the DS-82 renewal form. Regarding your most recent passport:

- Was your most recent passport issued less than 15 years ago (or expired less than 5 years)?
- Were you 16 years or older when the most recent passport was issued? Meaning it is an adult passport that is valid for 10 years.
- Was it issued in your current name? Or can you submit the legal document(s) proving your name change. Acceptable documents to prove a legal name change include a marriage certificate, divorce decree, adoption certificate or court order. The document you submit must be an original or a certified copy. It will be returned to you.
- You can submit your most recent passport
- Your current passport is not damaged.

If you can answer YES to those questions, then in most cases you are eligible to apply for a passport renewal by mail. For a more detailed list of criteria to renew, please refer to the Department of State's travel website: Renew my Passport.

If you answered NO to any of the above questions you cannot self-renew. You will need an appointment with an acceptance agent for the DS-11 application to obtain a new passport. NOTE: if your passport was issued as a minor (only valid for 5 years) or is more than 5 years expired the DS-11 application is the correct form and an appointment is required with an acceptance agent (you cannot self-renew or use the DS-82 form).
